→ President's Message: Science and Naturopathic Medicine

By Carl Hangee-Bauer, ND, LAc

As a student at Bastyr University, I remember Dr. Joe Pizzorno saying that if our profession is to be taken seriously by the larger world of medicine, we must speak in a language that everyone can understand and appreciate. That language is the language of science. Read the rest of the piece at the AANP's blog, "Physicians Who Listen."

→ News from the Office: ND Nominated to NCCAM and the 2011 Legislative Agenda

By Karen Howard, Executive Director

Jane Guiltinan, ND, Past-President of the AANP and Dean of Naturopathic Medicine for Bastyr University, has been nominated by Josephine Briggs, MD, to become a member of the National Center for Complementary and Alternative Medicine (NCCAM) Advisory Council. Read more.

→ State Legislative Update: Keep Tabs as State Legislation Takes Off

By Gene McGill, Director of State Government Relations

As state legislatures continue to move through their sessions, the AANP is tracking movement of any and all naturopathic legislation for you. There are 18 states that have introduced legislation so far this year. To date, 117 bills have been introduced in legislatures throughout the United States. Read more.
