

AANP 2019 Call for Speakers

Submissions due December 1, 2018

Thank you for your interest in speaking at the AANP 2019, the Annual Convention. Please review the following information carefully. All submissions are due December 1, 2018. NO LATE SUBMISSIONS WILL BE ACCEPTED.

Offerings must be clinically relevant and provide attendees with information that can be applied immediately. We are actively seeking a large number of presentations that will qualify for Pharmacy, Ethics &/or Pain Management Credits.

Preference will be given to submissions that propose hands-on, interactive, or creative learning formats. Please consider how to engage your audience through pop quizzes, audience participation, leaving the podium to move amongst the audience, etc.

SUBMISSION INSTRUCTIONS

All proposals must be submitted through the online collection portal.

Proposals submitted by Thursday, December 1, 2018, will be reviewed by the AANP Convention Content Committee, which will make selections based on content, objectives, relevance, significance, originality, clarity, and speaker experience. All persons who submit proposals will receive notification of the committee's decision no later than February 28, 2019.

Presentation Format

To maximize clinical worthiness, presentations should, whenever possible, include cases, detailed treatment information, and minimal basic information (i.e. anatomy & physiology).

The conference will present varying lengths of presentations for both clinical and research topics. Please let us know in your proposal, your desired length. The committee may adjust this time based on program needs and the committee's recommendation.

If you are not selected as a speaker, you may also have the opportunity to present at one of our poster sessions. Poster sessions provide an opportunity to present your research and patient outcomes.

Compensation

Selected concurrent speakers will receive $300 per lecture session, plus full conference registration. Should a session have more than one presenter, the honorarium will be divided among all presenters, and all presenters will receive full Convention registration. Oral research presenters (20 minute presentations) will receive $100 in addition to one day Convention registration. Any honoraria or reimbursements must be approved by the AANP and Convention staff. All payments will be made following presentations.

Commercial Bias

Presentations must be free from real or perceived commercial bias as described in the attached CE Compliance and Financial Disclosure forms. There are a limited number of vendor presentations slots in the program. Please contact Rebecca Takemoto at RTakemoto@sync-opate.com for more information about these opportunities.

General Presentation Requirements

- Your presentation should be factual and report significant research findings, clinical procedures and results, techniques or topics.
- All presentations (final PPT slides/handouts) will be reviewed by the Convention Content Committee.
- Presenters are responsible for their own expenses, including travel, hotel and any other costs incurred by Convention participation.
- The Convention Content Committee reserves the right to suggest edits, co-presenters and to combine submissions.
- Speakers must be available to present during any of the three days of the Convention, August 15-17, 2019, with a post-Convention hands-on, experiential learning session on August 18. Sessions cannot be scheduled per individual requests.
- Presenters are responsible for the transport and storage of any extra presentation materials. Handouts must be approved for distribution by the AANP and Convention staff prior to the Convention. Handouts not approved by the AANP and conference staff may be removed at their discretion.
- The speaker understands his/her lecture may be audio and/or video recorded and that slides and notes may be reprinted for symposium and post-symposium sales. By submitting a proposal, the speaker agrees to this and forfeits any rights associated with the distribution of recordings or printings. The Convention Content Committee reserves the right to reformat proposals to ensure publication uniformity.
- All speakers must provide information on any real or potential conflicts of interest and disclose any affiliations or financial interests to the session attendees.
- All presentations must meet CE Compliance requirements (see CE Compliance Form).

Full proposal must include (but is not limited to) the following. Incomplete submissions will not be reviewed. DO NOT ASSUME REVIEWERS KNOW YOU OR YOUR BODY OF WORK.

All of the presentation information (excluding the compliance/disclosure forms) should be combined into a single document. Bio, short description, contact information, forms and photos will also be entered into the online form directly.

Submissions without all forms/photo will not be considered.

Research Presentations

As with any form of human subjects research, research in the field of naturopathic medicine requires adherence to the laws and norms established to ensure ethical conduct and protect the rights of human subjects. Research is defined by the Office for Human Research Protections as "a systematic investigation, including research development, testing and evaluation, designed to develop or contribute to generalizable knowledge." If your presentation reports data gathered through intervention or interaction with the individual and/or identifiable private information from human subjects, it should be reviewed by an institutional review board (IRB) for approval or exemption prior to dissemination, and your abstract should clearly state that it has received IRB approval. In addition, please include a copy of your IRB approval letter with your submission. Human subjects research that has not been reviewed by an IRB will not be accepted for presentation. If you are unsure whether your project should be reviewed by an IRB, please refer to Boston University's Self-Assessment tool or contact laura.farr@naturopathic.org with further questions.

Formatting and Submission

All proposals must be submitted through the online proposal collection process found here.

You will be required to fill out a form with contact information and to upload your complete proposal and photo.

- Speaker bios should be no longer than 150 words
- Submit proposals/bio in Microsoft Word format
- Submit headshot in high resolution, JPEG formats, square size, no smaller than 250 x 250 pixels (squared)
- If chosen, final speaker presentations must be submitted in PowerPoint for review by the speaker committee. For videos embedded in presentations, limit its file size to 50 MB or less.

Submissions are due December 1, 2018

For questions about the proposal submission process please email conference coordinator Rebecca Takemoto, RTakemoto@sync-opate.com
